

OKHA is a design studio dedicated to creating contemporary furniture collections with lifelong resonance both as design pieces and as conduits for human connection and individual expression.

Recognized for its exploration of expressive form, texture and materiality, OKHA's aesthetic inspiration is animated by the dialogue between symmetry, asymmetry, natural order and disorder, feminine and masculine elements.

In designs that are a hallmark of Creative Director, Adam Court's multi referential vision for a sophisticated and above all individuated aesthetic, OKHA is represented by a network of select showrooms and design galleries worldwide including; Tollgard in London, Spotti in Milan, Studiotwentytseven in New York, Obegi in Dubai and Twentieth in Los Angeles.
